Career & Skill Development (continued):

Home Inspection

Introductory and Advanced courses available to teach you the “ins-and-outs” of the Home Inspection industry and to prepare you to work in the field. Applicable for exam preparation for various home inspection certifications in the industry.

Certification Exam Preparation Seminars:

Building Inspector ICC/IBC Certification

Thirty-six hours of instruction in preparation of the ICC B-2 Commercial Building Inspector Exam given by the International Code Council. This certification is required for many municipal building inspector positions and is an excellent resume builder for any contractor. Applicable towards a General Building Inspector certification when completed along with the B-1 Certification.

Residential Inspector ICC/IRC Certification

Twenty-four hours of instruction in preparation of the ICC B-1 Residential Building Inspector Exam given by the International Code Council. This certification is valuable to any home inspector and is applicable towards a certification as a General Building Inspector when completed with the B-2 certification.

Electrical Certification

Electrical Certification programs are available as a self-paced online study. This certification is required of all electrical workers with the exception of licensed C-10 contractors who are doing their own work. (If a C-10 is working for another licensed contractor they must have this certification). Live crash courses are also available for group purchase. Call for details.

EPA Renovator Certification

The EPA Renovator Certification is required on anyone renovating, repairing and/or painting a pre-1978 home or child-occupied facility. Non-compliant penalties can be as high as $32,000. CSLS offer one-day seminars that will bring you into compliance with the EPA requirements and protect you from costly fines.
